

Digital Delivery of IEEE Spectrum & The Institute for IEEE Student and Graduate Student Members

Volunteer Fact Sheet

Overview

MGA Board approved moving Student and Graduate Student members to digital delivery of IEEE Spectrum and The Institute. If Student and Graduate Student members choose not to receive the digital version they will have the option to change to print copies for US$5 or a combination of print and digital for US$14.95. There are three key member segments that will be affected; Existing Students, New Students, and Elevated Students. Each segment has subtle differences in when this will be rolled out and our positioning statement to that group.

FAQ

What are the key benefits of Digital Delivery?

The digital versions offer

- Interactive features like integrated audio, video, embedded web links, and e-mail links
- Retrieval of back editions and archives available from July 2007 for Digital member subscribers
- Improved and consistent delivery by removing risk of delay or interruptions by postal service
- Reduced use of natural resources

Delivery Method	Cost
Digital Delivery	Included
Print* (No Digital)	+US$5.00
Digital and Print*	+US$14.95

* Requires an additional fee

Can I read IEEE Spectrum and The Institute on my Tablet?

Apps for the iPad, Android, and Kindle Fire are available for only IEEE Spectrum.

Does the cost of student membership change?

No, the basic price would remain the same US$27 outside North America; US$32 within North America. The difference being the print version of IEEE Potentials Magazine.

How will this be communicated to existing student members?

A communication plan is being executed in conjunction with 2013 renewal. Updating collateral and appropriate pages on IEEE.org will be addressed along with messaging on member invoices and e-mail renewal campaigns. Students will also be made aware through the student newsletter (What's New for Students) and The Institute.

How will this be communicated to new student members?

A communication plan is being executed in conjunction with 2013 membership year. Membership collateral and recruitment campaigns will feature this as a new benefit for 2013.

What is the combination option?

This allows the student or graduate student to receive a print and digital version of IEEE Spectrum and The Institute. The cost is US$14.95 in addition to member dues.

Who do I contact with questions?

If there are any questions about this transition please direct all inquiries to the IEEE Contact Center, www.ieee.org/contactcenter.

2. User will notice the price change to US$37.00, an increase of US$5.00 for print only.

The screenshot displays the IEEE website's membership selection process. At the top, there are three columns of subscription categories: Computational Intelligence, Computer, Consumer Electronics, Control Systems, Dielectrics and Electrical Insulation, Education, Electromagnetic Compatibility; Oceanic Engineering, Photonics, Power Electronics, Power and Energy, Product Safety Engineering, Professional Communication; and Biometrics, Electronic Design Automation, Nanotechnology, Sensors, Superconductivity, Systems, Technology Management. Below these is the 'Membership Media Options' section, which states that each IEEE membership includes a set of subscriptions and can be updated. It highlights 'IEEE Membership: US$37.00' and lists the included benefits: IEEE Spectrum, The Institute, IEEE Job Site, memberNet, and IEEE.tv programming. A table under 'Subscription Options' shows three items: Potentials Magazine, IEEE (Electronic), Potentials Magazine, IEEE (Print), and Spectrum, IEEE (Electronic, Print). An 'Edit' button is located below the table. On the right side, the 'My Cart' section shows the 'IEEE Membership (student)' for US$37.00, with a 'Subtotal*' of US$37.00. A 'Proceed to checkout' button is visible below the cart. At the bottom of the page, there is a 'Proceed to checkout' button and a note about promotion codes.

Transition from Digital to Combination

1. To select the combination of print and digital all boxes must be selected. Select "Save" to complete the change.

The screenshot shows the IEEE membership options page. At the top, there is a navigation menu with categories like Computer, Consumer Electronics, Control Systems, Dielectrics and Electrical Insulation, Education, Electromagnetic Compatibility, Photonics, Power Electronics, Power and Energy, Product Safety Engineering, Professional Communication, Nanotechnology, Sensors, Superconductivity, Systems, and Technology Management. Below this is the 'Membership Media Options' section, which states: 'Your selected memberships are listed below. Each IEEE membership includes a set of subscriptions. You can update/change your subscription preferences.' The main content area shows 'IEEE Membership: US$32.00' and includes a description: 'Includes Subscription to IEEE Spectrum, The Institute, access to the IEEE Job Site, memberNet, exclusive IEEE.tv programming, e-mail alias, and many more benefits.' Underneath is the 'Subscription Options' section, which contains a table of options:

Subscription	Print	Electronic	Digital
Spectrum, IEEE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Potentials Magazine, IEEE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

At the bottom of the table are 'Save' and 'Cancel' buttons. Three red arrows point from the top of the page to the 'Print', 'Electronic', and 'Digital' checkboxes for 'Spectrum, IEEE'. On the right side of the page, there is a 'My Cart' section showing 'IEEE Membership (student)' for US$32.00, a 'Subtotal*' of US$32.00, and a 'Proceed to checkout' button. Below the cart is a promotional banner for IEEE research and a section for 'IEEE Members enjoy discounts on insurance, technology'.
