The screenshot shows the IEEE Xplore interface for the article "Impact of Distance on Outage Probability in IRS-NOMA for Beyond 5G Networks". The article title is prominently displayed. Below the title, there are buttons for "Cite This" and "PDF". The publisher is listed as IEEE. The authors are Pragya Swami and Vimal Bhatia. A red circle highlights the copyright symbol (©) in the article's metadata area. A large grey arrow points from this symbol towards the RightsLink window shown in the adjacent image.

The screenshot shows the RightsLink window, which is a form for requesting permission to reuse content from an IEEE publication. The window title is "CCC | RightsLink". The article title "Impact of Distance on Outage Probability in IRS-NOMA for Beyond 5G Networks" is displayed. Below the title, there is a small IEEE logo with the text "Requesting permission to reuse content from an IEEE publication". The article details are listed: "Conference Proceedings: 2021 IEEE 18th Annual Consumer Communications & Networking Conference (CCNC)", "Author: Pragya Swami", "Publisher: IEEE", and "Date: 9 Jan. 2021". A "Copyright © 2021, IEEE" notice is also present. The window includes a "Welcome to RightsLink" message and a dropdown menu labeled "I would like to..." with the option "make a selection". A note at the bottom states: "Note: It is the requester's responsibility to determine whether a copyright and/or credit notice to the third-party owner appears nears the item. Permission to use any third-party material published in an IEEE publication must be obtained from the third-party owner. IEEE disclaims any responsibility for any use of content owned by third parties without their permission."
